

Pre-Solicitation Conference

CN051214 Contractor Pre-Qualification; South Florida Water Management District Construction Projects.

The South Florida Water Management District (District) will be conducting a Pre-Solicitation Conference for firms in the construction industry. The purpose of this conference is to inform the business community of this upcoming opportunity, and to solicit feedback regarding the parameters and methodology of the solicitation prior to its formal release.

The purpose of the solicitation will be to obtain qualification and experience information from interested firms -- in order to pre-qualify contractors for major construction work in support of South Florida Water Management Programs. Once qualified, contractors will be provided an opportunity to bid on construction projects throughout the South Florida area. Estimated values of the projects will range from $500,000 to $300,000,000. Contractors will be considered qualified by meeting a set of minimum requirements as specified in the solicitation. Qualified contractors will then be categorized by project size and primary type of construction work.

Construction project types for this solicitation will include:

- Pump Station Construction
- Fill-Embankment Construction
- Water Reservoir (Zoned) Embankment Construction
- Roadway Construction
- Controlled Blasting
- Soil-Bentonite Cutoff Wall Construction
- Flow Control Structure Construction
- Earthwork Construction
- Wetlands Construction
